

ESG and the Future of African Development

African development is changing dramatically, as governments across the continent pivot towards Infrastructure-led Development. This is creating new opportunities for investors' Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) engagements – yet so too it is generating new ESG risks.

Western Australian universities are leading a major new research project that is looking at ESG and the new development, especially for Australian companies. Would you like your company to be part of this initiative? Come along to this panel discussion to find out more.

When: Thursday 7th September 2023 | 2-3pm

Where: 'Boardroom', Main Conference Floor, Pan Pacific Hotel, Perth

This venue is inside the ADU campus. Non ADU registered delegates are welcome to attend, and can collect a session pass at the registration desk on the ground floor at the Pan Pacific. They are welcome to stay on after this event, to visit ADU stalls, and attend the AAMEG Awards reception.

For more information, please contact:

Professor Richard Vokes, UWA

richard.vokes@uwa.edu.au

All welcome

Institute of Advanced Studies